

A Quiet Night, Here

Oh! There's a moon out there tonight
With all the nightly clouds one loses track

One does not lose track, alas of all the wars over there the need to put an end to those lives that differ The parched earths, the earthquakes the floods and hurricanes, tsunamis

But oh, there's a moon out there tonight surveying us all down here

We'd like to go there, we try to go there Not just curious but maybe another place to escape to maybe another place to ruin to muck up in our zeal for progress.

Scotty, beam me up,
GPS me to Paradise,
way on the other side.
