

Anxiety

Do you remember when we smiled at what we wrote?
Do you think that it's really worth it being in society?
Do you think that this is age and there is no antidote?
I think there's something behind this new anxiety.

Do you think it's really worth it being in society?
Is being afraid of what someone thinks really worth the rage?
I think there's something behind this new anxiety
Stuck in this dread-built cage.

Is being afraid of what someone thinks really worth the rage?
Am I saying something that others want to say?
Stuck in this dread-built cage
The truth will never go away.

Am I saying something that others want to say?
Do you believe this is normal and there's no antidote?
The truth will never go away.
Do you remember when we smiled at what we wrote?
