

Time

Time can be so slow
It knows no measure
of how to go
It does what it will
In it's own time
Without a will of it's own
Only what you
Don't want it to be Only when you can't see
The difference between Then and now and What is meant to be
How to know what time
will tell or what will cease to be Without a way to know
We stumble on not knowing
